A Message From Our Principal

It is fitting and proper that you, the members of the class of 1962, take this opportunity to pause and look back upon the past and ahead to the future. In your yearbook you record the growth in our community and in our school district. This growth has made change necessary and inevitable.

In your individual lives you have also noted the changes resulting from growth.

WILLIAM H. BARTON

Supervising Principal

It has been the role of your school to provide opportunities for that growth which will best fit you for the years ahead. Your parents and the other voters of our school district have made continual sacrifices in a never ending attempt to provide the best education they could afford.

Now, as you arrive at the end of your senior year and move on to whatever lies ahead, may you realize that you can never stop learning. Learning results in growth and growth results in change. May you continually seek to make those changes which result in greater good for your fellow man and for your country.

Queensbury — A Growing

In recent years, the residents of the Town of Queensbury have seen and felt a great change in their community. On January 1, 1961, our town became a first class town, having attained a population of over 10, 000. The great population increase is evidenced by such developments as Cottage Hill, Meadowview Lane, Ridge Meadows, Glen Acres, Hillcrest, and Westland. Many new businesses have been established; and two new shopping centers, which will each contain a large number of stores, are now under construction. In addition to businesses and homes, Quaker Road - an east-west bypass - and the Northway were simultaneously completed last year to aid travel in the area.

The school system has always been of primary concern to the people of the community. In 1948, the residents voted to incorporate all the small school districts into one, authorizing the building of a large district school. With the town's tremendous growth in population, the residents again had to go to the polls in May, 1961, where they approved the bond issue to construct a new high school, which will greatly relieve the overcrowded conditions in our present school.

One of the proposed new shopping centers, Queensbury Plaza, as it appears in the architect's drawing.

The entire student body attended the ceremonies at which Governor Nelson Rockefeller formally opened the Northway. The Governor was introduced by Assemblyman Richard Bartlett.

Community

We, the class of 1962, feel that the people of our town have made possible all the benefits we have received from our education, and they have always in times of crisis made wise decisions where the education of their children is concerned. In appreciation, we dedicate this 10th volume of the ORBIT to the residents of the Town of Queensbury.

Queensbury —

The past decade has been a time of growth for our school. Since the original two-story structure was completed in 1950, two wings have been added - a large addition to the high school, including a band room and a cafeteria annex, and an even larger addition to the elementary school, including a new gym.

Students have benefited from a new language lab, new science equipment, and an expanded library. With the use of ear phones and tape recordings, students are able to improve their pronunciation of a foreign language. An overhead projector, a micro-projector, a zoom-microscope, and a Van DeGraff generator are just a few examples of the new science equipment, which makes possible an expanded science program. A controlled reader class is helping students improve their speed and comprehension in reading. Our library has added new shelves to provide room for its growing collection.

Students have also benefited from additional extracurricular activities. A chapter of the National Honor Society was established in 1958 to give recognition to students of exceptional ability. The Charles C. Beers chapter of the Future Teachers of America, organized in 1959, offers interested students an opportunity to learn about the teaching profession. In 1961, Queensbury proudly fielded its first football team. Other clubs such as Debate, Science, and Audio-Visual are helping students broaden their interests.

The past ten years has been a time of development for Queensbury. Our class is proud to have been part of a new and growing school.

Way back when - third grade

Seventh grade with Mr. McCurry

A junior high gym class

Our freshman class officers

Class of 1962 —

For many of us, our first year at Queensbury School began when we entered first grade, after attending kindergarten in the smaller district schools. In 1950, the newly constructed school was much smaller with fewer pupils. As we advanced through the grades, we saw the school enrollment grow from 609 students in 1950-51 to 1850 students in 1961-62, with the graduating class increasing from 10 in 1953 to 53 in 1962. We have seen many additions to our school. This modern school with its steadily increasing educational program has played an important part in our lives.

After the elementary grades, junior high was a new and exciting experience. For the first time, we were able to take part in many school activities which had previously been denied to us. We were able to elect class officers as well as representatives to the Student Council. In addition, we passed classes, attended basketball games, school dances, and, perhaps most exciting of all, attended the school picnics for the first time.

At the close of junior high, we began to prepare for the first year of high school. By this time we were anxious to enter into the many activities open for high school students.

The elementary newspaper staff in 1954

Our last year of elementary school

many happy memories

Finally our day as freshmen came. Our new and interesting subjects included French and earth science. Although our studies came first, we lost no time in getting our activities started. Our first important duty was to elect the class officers. Thomas Nailer was chosen president; Peter Gorman, vice-president; Judy Davison, secretary; and Sharon Spaulding, treasurer. Under their leadership we made plans for our first dance, the "Spring Fling." The profits from this dance enabled us to make a deposit in our Washington fund - our first step towards Washington.

Freshman year passed quickly and we were sophomores almost before we realized it. We will always remember reading the DIALOGUES OF PLATO and writing our own play about Socrates.

This year Tom, Peter, and Judy held the same offices with Sandra Gilman as treasurer. In addition to our class dance, the "Poisson d'Avril Dance," we worked enthusiastically selling Christmas Cards and wrappings. With the Washington trip as our incentive, we all worked hard to sell our products.

Tom, Peter, and Judy, assisted by Nancy Austin, held the same offices during our junior and senior year.

Our junior year was one of the most busy and eventful of all our school years. At this time we encountered history term papers, chemistry, and OUR TOWN. Our biggest money raising project this year was the magazine subscription drive. Through the united efforts of the class, we were able to exceed our goal, making the drive a huge success. Later in the year we ordered our class rings, which were oval for the first time in the history of the school. Most of this year's excitement centered around the prom and play, which brought the year to a memorable close.

Emerald Ecstacy–an Evening to Remember

Undoubtedly the most exciting event of our junior year was the prom. Green and white decorations carried out our theme, Emerald Ecstasy. Guests entered through an archway covered with fresh lilacs, and a bridge surrounded with flowers provided a lovely setting for pictures.

The grand march and the crowning of the king and queen were the highlights of the evening. The 1960 queen, Dianne Monahan, crowned the new royalty, Sandra Gilman and Thomas Nailor.

For the first time, the Junior Class instituted a Senior Honor Court, which enabled the seniors to have an active interest in the prom.

Each and every person who attended this dance will remember the anxious preparations, the parties, and the dance itself for many years.

Carol and Eddie carry the crowns.

Sandy and Tom walk to the throne.

Dianne crowns the new royalty.

"You are never to speak to Helen again!"

Happy Stella persuades Limbo to remain.

Dobie Gillis — Our

"I may be small and puny, but only physically," mutters Dobie, the protagonist of Ma Shulman's comedy, THE MANY LOVES OF DOBIE GILLIS.

Dobie, a small, dynamic teenager with an active imagination and boundless energy, has a knack for getting himself and others into impossible situations.

Dobie decides to have a fund raising dance for the school newspaper. In spite of frantic efforts to engage a name band for the evening, he and his friends must settle for Happy Stella Kowalski and her Schottische Five, whose instruments include washboards, wooden flutes, and borge drums.

As an extra added attraction, Dobie decides to have a movie star - Limbo Lamb, a former student of Salmon P. Chase High School - appear at the dance.

G. Daggett, P. Sawyer, T. Nailor, C. Robillard, E. D'Angelo, S. Gilman, S. Severino, D. Mulligan, D. Timms, F. McGuire.

B. Cowles, B. Brown, G. Myott, M. Bovee, M. McCoy, L. Danahy, S. Streeter, N. White, P. Gorman, N. Austin, J. Thompson, J. Davison, F. Kopp, S. Batease, T. Norton, A. Ellingsworth, K. Licht, J. Fehl, R. Jacobson, N. Tremblay.

"Help! I'm stuck!"

Theatrical Triumph

Thinking she is making a publicity appearance for LIFE magazine, Limbo agrees to come. However, when Limbo discovers the fraud, she promptly decides to leave. Since her departure will ruin all plans, Happy Stella, now a firm friend of Dobie's, convincingly persuades Limbo to remain.

Although Dobie finds himself in many seemingly impossible situations throughout the play, he somehow manages to escape successfully from his numerous predicaments.

Many hours of practice and rehearsing went into the play, but each actor received his reward with the applause and laughter of the audience.

To Dobie's amazement, members of the Schottische Five tune up.

Dobie finally appreciates Bonnie.

Mrs. Helen Fuller, assistant director, and Mrs. Betty Rooke, director, deserve credit for the success of our play.

Thanks to the efforts of Sonja and Cheryl, the advertising campaign was a huge success.

Dave, our sports editor, prepares a page with assistance from Judy, Mike, and Eric.

Our capable co-editors, Nancy and Peter, take time out for the photographer.

From September to March the yearbook staff worked diligently to complete a fine school annual. The problems of meeting deadlines, finding photographs, and making important decisions were skillfully handled by the competent staff.

Art, Barbara, Smitty, Joan, and Helen get ideas from Taylor's instruction books.

The staff examines the yearbook materials sent by the Taylor Publishing Company.

Senior Project

All this work would never have been completed if it had not been for the advice, encouragement, and assistance of our advisers, Mrs. White, Mrs. Rooke, and Mr. Hayward. To them the staff owes many thanks for their help in publishing the tenth volume of the ORBIT.

Our hard working advisors, Mrs. White, Mr. Hayward, and Mrs. Rooke.

A Busy Senior Year

After a lively junior year, we found our senior year even busier. Ordering graduation announcements and being measured for caps and gowns were accompanied by such activities as having cake sales, dances, and running the concession stand at the home basketball games. These activities were all, of course, for our long awaited senior trip to Washington, the highlight of all our school years.

Other senior year activities included a party in honor of Mrs. June Reamer, our guidance office secretary and good friend who moved from the area, and a trip to the Warren County Court House.

Throughout our final year we were frequent visitors to the guidance office to prepare for college, the armed forces, or a job after graduation.

We are grateful to our school for providing us with an excellent education. Queensbury has filled our minds with many fond memories, none of which we will ever forget.

"Education best fulfills its high purpose when responsibility for education is kept close to the people it serves - when it is rooted in the home, nurtured in the community and sustained by a rich variety of public, private and individual resources. The bond linking home and school and community - the responsiveness of each to the needs of the others - is a precious asset of American education."

Student Council

Each year in June, the 628 students of the high school and junior high board buses which take them to two different lakes for the annual school picnics. The capable members of our Student Council have made arrangements, worked out buddy systems, and planned games for the picnics.

In addition, the Student Council each year sponsors a talent show and several dances, provides money for Christmas parties, distributes the school pictures, and supplies records for dancing during noon hour and after the basketball games.

In June of every year, the new officers are elected. Candidates are chosen, after which an electoral college composed of members from each homeroom selects the nominees to be voted on by the student body. For the final balloting, an authentic voting machine is used.

Since its formation in 1950, the Council has actively participated in school affairs and has willingly accepted new responsibilities.

The members of the Queensbury High School Debate Club range from freshmen to seniors, with many representatives from each class. These students, when debating against other schools, compete in one of three divisions - novice, semi-experienced, and experienced - depending on skill and experience.

The primary purpose of the Debate Club, formed under the direction of Mr. Hemmer two years ago, is to help its members express themselves with confidence when speaking before an audience. Each member is able to compete in the numerous tournaments available. This year the experienced division competed in a tournament at Cortland State Teachers' College. Other plans for the year included a regional tournament and competition at Bethlehem Central High School.

Queensbury High —

An A in six out of seven participations - this has been the record of the Queensbury High School Band in the annual New York State School Music Association Competition.

In addition to playing for school activities, the band has participated in many outside events. For nine years, the band has played in the Lower Adirondack Firemen's Association parades, winning third place twice and second place once during the years that band competition was held. The band also played for the opening of the New York State Teachers' Regional Conference in Glens Falls in 1958.

Highlights of 1961 were an invitation to play for Governor Rockefeller at the opening of the Glens Falls By-Pass in May and a request to entertain the Lions' Club at the Queensbury Inn in December. The band has played many recorded selections, which have been heard over radio station WSET, and has received enthusiastic praise from Mrs. William McCune of the Glens Falls POST STAR.

Since 1953 John L. Boor has been director of the band, which was formed in 1951 under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Cafaro.

At the opening of the indoor interscholastic sports season, our basketball team buckled down to long and hard practicing. Their efforts were rewarded when they won their first two games against Fort Edward and Luzerne. Although the Queensbury team showed improvement, increased competition in the league prevented them from bettering last year's record.

The highlight of the season was an action-packed game against Whitehall, which Queensbury won in an exciting overtime.

With only two seniors leaving and the squad seasoned by another year's experience, Coach Robert Carpenter looks forward to a better season next year.

J. V.'s Spurt on to Victory

With an outstanding record of 14 wins and only 4 losses, the J. V. basketball team finished the season in third place. The team, playing both zone and man-to-man defense, provided many thrills, especially in an upset victory over second place Warrensburg, 60-59. Thanks to Mr. Curren's excellent coaching, the players will provide a strong support for next year's varsity.

Members of the Athletic Association, Sonja Harvey, Janet Higgins, Cheryl Burt, and Helen White, gave cheerful and efficient service as they sold tickets and reserved seates at the home basketball games.

Cheerleaders Spark Teams

Since the girls are unable to participate in interscholastic sports, they show their school spirit by becoming cheerleaders. Selected on the basis of appearance and performance, these girls lead the student body in the school cheers and stir up enthusiasm and support for the team during the games.

Congratulations to Our Award Winners

Six members of the Class of 1962 received awards during junior and senior years.

Top honors went to Nancy Austin who, in addition to receiving a New York State Regents Scholarship, was awarded the Bausch and Lomb Science Award for the highest average in science and mathematics. She was also a delegate to the United Nations Seminar and recipient of the Optimist Club Outstanding Citizen Award. In April, Nancy and Judy Davison attended the Syracuse Citizenship Education Conference at which they gave prepared speeches and participated in two discussion groups on current topics.

Richard Smith and Eric D'Angelo were chosen to represent Queensbury at Boys' State, where the boys set up their own city, county, and state governments and elected their government officials. Richard also received an alternate New York State Regents Scholarship. Another Alternate Regents Scholarship was awarded to Cheryl Burt.

Sue Ann Batease was presented the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award, given to the student attaining the highest mark on a written examination in home economics.

Your Will to Win is on the Record

You have graduated from high school. For the record, you have demonstrated a will to win. Congratulations! Your future can be bright. Only you can determine which path your career will follow. Choose it carefully.

The Glens Falls Insurance Company, too, is proud of its record of growth stability, and success. From the Home Office in Glens Falls have sprung branch offices across the United States and Canada doing business throughout the free world.

Last year over one hundred million dollars was paid out by the Glens Falls Group in settlement of claims, for salaries, commissions, and dividends. Twenty-three hundred salaried employees, seven thousand agents, and fifty-eight hundred stockholders are truly the Glens Falls family.

The community has prospered and grown with the Glens Falls — in no small measure because of the men, money, and imagination of the Glens Falls Group.

The continued growth of the individual, the community, and the Glens Falls Group is based on our faith in the future and the will to win.
